Wilmington lies at the junction of the Brandywine Creek, Christinia, and Delaware Rivers, which are the most well-known bodies of water in our area. There is a Brandywine River museum right along the water that can tell you the history and give visuals of the things that happened there. For example, the Battle of Brandywine.

Wilmington was established by the Swedish in 1638, then by the Dutch in 1655, and finally by the British in 1664.

Our mayor of Wilmington is Mike Purzycki and our treasurer is DaWayne Sims, followed by other major people in our city government.
